How to make profits and control risks in gold: stocks, futures, and ETFs

Gold prices are driven by geopolitical events, inflation/deflation fears, and good old fear and greed. Whether you believe in buying physical gold or simply want to trade it, those sharp moves present fantastic opportunities. What are the best ways to trade gold? Bullion, futures, gold ETFs, and gold stocks are driven by different mixes of market forces and behave differently. In this session, you will learn to apply technical studies and indicators to gold stocks and futures, creating a powerful combination of fundamental and technical analysis. We will use up-to-the-minute database to analyse gold stocks that interest you—please bring your questions. You will learn a trading approach to help you become a winner in the gold markets.
